T. L. A. B. C. BOARD

Both drys and wets in Virginia must take note of the splendid start the newly named A. B. C board has made. The thirsee apointees had no easy job on their hands. So far they have acted with commendable caution. Haste would have embittered the problem.

The vigor with which they are setting up plans to fight the bootlegger is what we all want to see. However, we might as well gear ourselves to see an increase in drinking. There is a major problem in the offing for local officers. A firm stand must be made right from the start. Local communities want no drinking wave.

THE SCHOOLS WON

Some weeks ago it looked like we might face a seven month term of the schools. Now, the term will be nine months thanks to a notable school victory won in the legislature.

But, there is a "nigger in the woodpile." The state budget seems to be mightily unbalanced. State highway department funds are woefully short. The will have to pay most of the new taxes. The increased revenue "might" balance the loss of the prohibition set-up.

Virginia has been proud of its balanced budget. Now we've the makings of a nice big deficit.

County Key Bankers

Describing the activities of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, the Director, D. H. Otis, says: "With 2,500 agricultural minded bankers, designated as county key bankers, there is enlisted a tremendous force for the improvement of agriculture. These key bankers bring organized assistance to progressive bankers, who are led to see the possibility of agricultural work in their communities. Banker-farmer clubs are emphasized as a means of acquainting bankers, farmers and other business men with first-hand knowledge of how agricultural improvement methods are working out in practice. These give an opportunity for the key bankers to contact country bankers and work out new ideas."

Gov. Richie, of Maryland is being mentioned as a possible candidate against senator Goldsborough, a Republican, for the U. S Senate.

Nagging Pains are WARNING SIGNALS

TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mat over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was taking you to avoid.

When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, distress you, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay.

Take Cardui to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been in use for over 50 years. So many women praise CARDUI, it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

Byrd Expedition to Hear Easter Sermon

WHEN Rear Admiral Byrd lands in the Antarctic, there won't be any dress parade on the main street of Little America. Nevertheless, the members of Admiral Byrd's second expedition will experience a real touch of the Easter Spirit when Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, noted pastor of Riverside Church, New York, delivers a special sermon to them by short wave radio. The eminent clergyman's message will be heard by the 56 isolated explorers ten thousand miles away—and listeners in this country—at 10 p.m., eastern standard time, March 31, over the Columbia network. Dr. Fosdick (right) is a close friend of Admiral Byrd (inset).

Chance Discovery Gives Warning of Sandstorms

Paris.—By chance, three scientists have discovered a means of warning Sahara men, troops and voyagers of approaching sandstorms in ample time to seek shelter.

The scientists erected an atmorndograph to observe the movements of flying insect hordes through the desert air. One day they detected a peculiar rat-tat-tat noise through the telephon apparatus connected with with the instrument. Investigation revealed a sandstorm was rising on the desert. The explorers then produced an improved atmeandiograph, designed expressly to detect approaching sandstorms.

Peoples intimated that he felt highly complimented at the tribute paid his jail, but up to a late hour he had not sent the $50.

BANK LOANS AND BUSINESS RECOVERY

Official Describes Efforts of Reserve Banks to Bring Out Deserving Borrowers—Present Situation Typical

Apropos of the part that an expansion of business loans by banks occuples in the early stages of the business recovery which is now gaining headway, a Federal Reserve Bank official recently gave an interesting review of the experiences of his institution in this connection. In 1932 the Federal Reserve Banks were empowered by law to make direct loans to individuals in unusual circumstances when they had been unable to obtain loans from a commercial bank, he pointed out.

From the middle of 1931 to the end of 1933 there were 1,286 applicants for loans at the New York Federal Reserve Bank under this law. The great majority of these applications proved on examination to be for funds for capital purposes, which are properly supplied as an investment in the business, or else were mortgage loans or others unclassifiable as commercial.

Only Fourteen Qualify

Only 250, or less than 20 per cent were of the type which merited detailed investigation. The amount involved was $9,525,000. After further study of these, the Federal Reserve Bank was forced to turn down the applications of 236, finally offering credit in the sum of $1,417,000 to only fourteen borrowers. Of this amount, only $106,000 was actually loaned, more than one-half of which was still outstanding many months later. Two of the borrowers went into receivership.

"Since it was the special endeavor of the Federal Reserve Bank to make every possible loan under the emergency provisions of the amendment, and since their best efforts resulted in the extension of so small a sum as to have no effect on the total volume of commercial loans, it is a reasonable assumption that eligible borrowers entitled to bank credit are better provided for by the commercial banks," says the American Bankers Association Journal in commenting on this episode.

It is characteristic, as shown by studies of past business cycles, for changes in the volume of commercial bank credit to follow behind either contraction or expansion of business activity, says a financial writer in the New York Times. This was magnified recently in England's recent recovery where there was a lag between increased business and increased commercial loans.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from some synthetic, habit-forming cathartic may cause bowel strain, and even set-up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be corrected in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.
